

I wanted to alert you to the new Career Center hosted by the Archaeological Institute of America (AIA). The AIA Career Center offers both employers and job-seekers an easy-to-use, digital system that streamlines and simplifies the hiring process.

<http://careers.archaeological.org/>

Through the Career Center, you can connect directly to an extensive network of professional archaeologists and academics. It is completely FREE to all job-seekers, allowing you to connect with more candidates than ever available before. To help promote posted jobs, all listings are featured on the AIA website and on all our social media sites, including Facebook, Twitter, and LinkedIn. Additionally, the Career Center is promoted in the Institute's bi-weekly e-newsletter that reaches 21,000 subscribers and also in "Dispatches from the AIA," a regular feature in Archaeology magazine (annual readership of 700,000).

You will be able to choose from an array of affordable pricing options and packages. Once the job is posted, you can:

- € Search candidate profiles to find qualified prospects
- € Receive automated email notices when résumés matching your criteria are posted
- € Track each job posting's page views, apply clicks, and submitted applications
- € Retrieve expired postings and repost instantly
- € Include a link to your organization's website to generate traffic and exposure

The starting rate for this high visibility and access to the other tools on the Career Services (including Resume Search and the ability to post more than one job) is $100. Please consider applying to post your job on the AIA's Career Services site to boost your position's visibility and accessibility by the hundreds of qualified professionals that use the site every day.