

The Biblical Archaeology Society is now accepting applications for the 2018 Joseph Aviram, Yigael Yadin, and Hershel Shanks fellowships that will allow scholars to attend the annual meetings of the American Schools of Oriental Research (ASOR) and the Society of Biblical Literature (SBL), held this November in Denver.

The fellowships' stipends of up to $2,500 each are intended to cover the costs of the winners' travel expenses.

How To Apply

Some fellowships are reserved for papers on the Archaeology of Late Antique Judaism and the Talmudic Period. (Please see www.biblicalarchaeology.org/2018fellowships for full details.)

To apply, please submit your curriculum vitae and a brief abstract of your paper by September 1, 2018, by email to bas@bib-arch.org with "2018 Fellowships" in the subject line or by mail to:

Fellowships
Biblical Archaeology Society
4710 41st Street, NW
Washington, DC 20016
USA