

Dear Colleagues,

I am delighted to announce the call for papers for the 20th International Conference on Pragmatics and Language Learning which will take place at Indiana University from April 23-25, 2020. Please also mark your calendars for our pre-conference workshop on the teaching of pragmatics on Thursday, April 22, 2020.

Abstract Submission Deadline: November 3rd, 2019

Abstracts must be 300 words max. in length (not including references) and must include title of paper and A/V requests.

Abstracts should be submitted through EasyAbstracts.

Submissions are limited to one individual and one joint abstract per person.

For more information about the conference, please contact pll2020@indiana.edu or visit the Pragmatics & Language Learning website at www.indiana.edu/~pll

Please share the Call for Papers with your colleagues / students.

We look forward to receiving your abstract!

Best,

César Félix-Brasdefer & Kathleen Bardovi-Harlig