

The Institute of Fine Arts of New York University seeks applications for a professorship in the art and architecture of Ancient Egypt and/or the Ancient Near East. The search is at the Assistant or Associate Professor level. The proposed start date for the position is September 1, 2018.

Successful candidates will demonstrate excellence in scholarship and teaching. The appointee will teach four courses each academic year, including graduate lecture courses, colloquia and seminars, and periodic undergraduate courses in the Department of Art History, NYU. The candidate will supervise both masters and doctoral students.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Application deadline is December 1, 2017. Applications should include cover letter, CV, statement describing research and teaching and a list of three referees. Use link below to submit application to search committee chair Edward J. Sullivan, Helen Gould Sheppard Professor of the History of Art and Deputy Director, IFA. Online reference letters will be due on December 15.

EOE/AA/Minorities/Females/Veterans/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity.

This institution is using Interfolio's Faculty Search to conduct this search. Applicants to this position receive a free Dossier account and can send all application materials, including confidential letters of recommendation, free of charge.

You can apply to: <http://apply.interfolio.com/46460>

New York University is an Equal Opportunity Employer. New York University is committed to a policy of equal treatment and opportunity in every aspect of its hiring and promotion process without regard to race, color, creed, religion, sex, pregnancy or childbirth (or related medical condition), sexual orientation, partnership status, gender and/or gender identity or expression, marital, parental or familial status, caregiver status, national origin, ethnicity, alienage or citizenship status, veteran or military status, age, disability, predisposing genetic characteristics, domestic violence victim status, unemployment status, or any other legally protected basis. Women, racial and ethnic minorities, persons of minority sexual orientation or gender identity, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply for vacant positions at all levels.