

University of Miami

The Department of Modern Languages and Literatures in the College of Arts and Sciences, University of Miami, is soliciting applications for individuals interested in possible part time teaching positions during the Spring 2015 semester (maximum two courses in a semester). The department is particularly interested in applicants able to teach language courses in Hebrew.

Duties will include teaching courses at the introductory undergraduate level in Hebrew. It will also include a minimum of three hours per week of office hours per course to meet with students. Minimum qualifications include an Masters Degree in the target language or relevant field and one-year teaching/professional experience required. Applications will be reviewed as received, and this pool will remain open throughout the academic year 2014-15.

An appointment/offer is contingent upon student demand (enrollments) and available funding, with the possibility that final confirmation will not be available until classes begin. Salary is competitive. DO NOT APPLY THROUGH THE UM ON-LINE SYSTEM.

Interested candidates should send a CV along with a cover letter indicating particular areas of expertise and experience, reference names/contact info or letters of references to: Department of Modern Languages and Literatures, P.O. Box 248093, Coral Gables, Florida 33124-2074. Fax: (305) 284-2068. Email: ml.facultysearch@miami.edu.

The University of Miami is an Equal Opportunity Employer - Females/Minorities/Protected Veterans/Individuals with Disabilities are encouraged to apply. Applicants and employees are protected from discrimination based on certain categories protected by Federal law.