

Woolf Institute Cambridge Scholarships

PhD Scholarships for students interested in the multi-disciplinary study of Jewish, Christian and Muslim Relations

The scholarships, co-funded by the Woolf Institute and the Cambridge Commonwealth, European and International Trust, will:

- Support outstanding research students at the University of Cambridge selected from applicants in the Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences;
- Cover the full cost of studying for a PhD at the University of Cambridge, and will be tenable at any Cambridge College.

For 2016-17 entry, the application deadline is 2 December 2015.

Applicants are encouraged to contact the Woolf Institute prior to submitting their application to discuss their research proposal.
